Sharing each other’s stories
An international celebration of literature, creativity and music.

2 days, 17 sessions, 1 festival

Your opportunity to hear from some of the most renowned authors and cultural commentators of our time from India, Ireland, the UK and beyond, coming together to share each other’s stories and discuss topical themes of the day, including Borders, Gender, Peace and Non-violence, Tagore, Women and Freedom, Mythology and Artificial Intelligence.

Meet some of our trailblazing speakers:

Tara Gandhi Bhatacharjee: Distinguished granddaughter of Mahatma Gandhi who has devoted her life to working for public welfare

Shashi Tharoor: Dynamic politician, acclaimed author, witty raconteur, former diplomat and UN office-bearer

Namita Gokhale: Award-winning author, publisher, columnist and Festival Co-Director of the Jaipur Literature Festival

William Dalrymple: Brilliant historian, award-winning author and Festival Co-Director of the Jaipur Literature Festival

Asma Khan: Celebrity chef, restaurateur, epicure, author and a star of Netflix’s Chef’s Table

Marcus du Sautoy: Acclaimed author, renowned mathematician and the Oxford Simonyi Professor for Public Understanding of Science

Laxmi Narayan Tripathi: Outspoken activist, dancer, actress and leader of the movement which got India’s Supreme Court to recognise the third gender

‘The greatest literary show on Earth.’

Experience the magic of the legendary Jaipur Literature Festival at Belfast!
